Do you know that leaving the water running while brushing your teeth, wastes on average of 15 litres water each time? In a 4 persons household, where each person brushes twice per day, that's 120 litres of water wasted!

There are many places where people do not have access to clean drinking water. Clean drinking water scarcity is an alarming problem.

Always remember to save water in any area of your household to preserve clean ground water level.

How to stop water wastage in home during brushing your teeth ?

1. Close the tap while brushing your teeth; only open it while washing your mouth.
2. The best way to save water while brushing teeth is to use a glass of water instead of opening the tap frequently.
3. It will be better if the mouth washing water can be reused for gardening purpose or for flushing the toilet as being shown in the following pictures.

In Japan the hand-wash sink is attached on the toilet, so that you can wash your hands and Reuse the water for the next flush. In this way Japan saves Millions of litres of water every year.

What a Great Invention In this Era where We are suffering from Water Scarcity.

Every Country Should Adopt This!
